Notes

1	8 days' layover, maintenance. From Oakland to Miami AE and Fred were accompanied by AE's husband, George Palmer Putnam, and her mechanic R.D. "Bo" McKneeley. Repairs following AE's aborted first world flight attempt in March had been completed on May 18 and this was a shakedown flight. It was not until they arrived in Miami that the announcement was made that the second world flight attempt had actually begun. In Miami, Pan American Airways mechanics made necessary adjustments, then AE and Fred continued on alone. Back.
2	One day layover, crew rest. Back.
3	Unscheduled; navigational error. Back.
4	One day layover; maintenance. Back.
5	Refuel only. Back.
6	One day layover; maintenance. Back.
7	For the first time in the flight, weather became a serious problem. Originally intending only to refuel at Akyab, heavy rain forced them to abort their attempt to continue. Another attempt to reach Bangkok the next day was cut short by severe weather and a landing was made at Rangoon. Back.
8	Unscheduled; weather. Back.
9	Refuel only. Back.
10	Two days' layover; maintenance. Instrument malfunctions were addressed by mechanics of KLM East Indies Airlines. In a telephone conversation with her husband, AE said she still hoped to be home by July 4th. Back.
11	Unscheduled; maintenance. Back.
12	One day layover, unscheduled; maintenance. Back.
